EDITORIAL

We greet you with the season's best wishes and with the hope that the coming year will be attended by God's richest blessings in your life.

We're truly sorry that the announcement made on pages 14 & 15 had to appear in the Christmas issue. I'm sure you can understand the financial position in which your District is placed.

An apology is also in order for the tardiness of this month's issue of the CHALLENGE. Everything seems to have worked against an early mailing this month.

The green ink never did arrive and so the Holiday issue comes to you in the same black-and-white with which you are familiar.

In addition to all his other activities, your Editor has undertaken a daily radio broadcast on the Maysville, Ky. station. Your prayers in this work are urgently requested.

You'll help us a lot if you will read the notes on pages 5 & 11. Your help and understanding at this time will be greatly appreciated. Every month, we receive letters asking the same questions and many times the answers will be found right on the pages of the CHALLENGE if you'll read it carefully.
