

E.L.I.T.E. TEAMS

When I am weak I am strong. 2 Corinthians 12:9-10

This has been a long journey but well worth it.

MIKE BROWN - DIRECTOR ELITE TEAMS

We have been through an incredible journey of discovery. What was thought of as disappointments have become our greatest victories. The journey to get to this point has been a couple of years in the making. Here we are, ready to go online as a Kingdom ministry organization partnered with some incredible ministry networks. If you are reading this newsletter that means that you have been a part of this journey from the beginning. And we would be honored if you would continue with us. From the time that we said yes and sold everything, trusting in the Lord. We find ourselves at that point of trust again.

The story of Moses is incredible. A cloud went before him as he marched through the desert. Leading millions of people he pressed on. When Moses approached the Red Sea he noticed the cloud that was his reassurance was now moving behind him. This would be the moment that Moses would have to rely on what he had been taught and what he came to expect from the Lord. This was a time for faith. As the armies approached he took a step forward and plunged his staff into the sea. The sea split and he was able to advance forward. The people trusted Moses as he trusted God. He led them to a closer walk with God. Will you trust us now? Will you continue on this journey with us? Our desire is only to walk with others and lead them to victory and away from bondage. Would you pray and consider supporting us at eliteteams.net? Would you advance with us as we march into unknown waters? We have every reassurance that God is leading this endeavor and have plans to change the world through the story of Elite Teams. I love you family. Now.....forward march!!!

Greetings incredible team,

I am never quick to say that something is obvious. Many times in our journey we have taken drastic turns. There has been trauma, heartache as well as rejoicing and triumph. You have been there every step of the way. Praying, supporting, and encouraging us. We are so grateful to you. We have learned so much and had a front-row seat in the miracles and wonders of God. We are privileged to be on an incredible journey!

Jess, Josh, Elizabeth, and I were prepared to head back overseas to Honduras. We have been seriously and diligently working towards the next chapter without Layne and Kali with us. However, we were met with a new set of orders that had been given to us very recently. We found out some medical info about one of our kiddos that will not allow this to happen the way we had expected. This manageable diagnosis started into motion an outcome we didn't want but understood that we needed.

With that said we have resigned from our position as AGWM world missionaries for the time being. I am never quick to say "always or forever" This is a pause in this particular platform of ministry due to the inability to live overseas full time. The Lord has been a cloud by day and a fire by night. He has been leading us to our next assignment in our service to the Kingdom. This has always involved our journey looking a little different than normal.

Now comes the exciting part where I get to give you the answer to, "so now what?" We are not done with Honduras nor are we done with Central America. We are not done with missions, the Honduras Transformation Project, and we are not done ministering. We have discussed our story and our desires with the leadership in the Penn/Del Ministry Network and have the blessing through the Network to continue to minister as a partner ministry.

What that means is that you can give to Elite Teams and still receive credit through your churches. Or you can give directly to Elite Teams ministry through our secure website. We are recognized by the Federal Government as a 501C(3). Elite Teams is an international ministry and is already in multiple countries. Jess and I will also maintain our credentials as ordained and credentialed pastors with the Assemblies of God. I recently was commissioned as an AG chaplain through U.S. Missions. I plan on traveling to multiple locations all over the map, and engaging with Elite and people in crisis/ law enforcement both here and abroad. I am currently pursuing my degree in Psychology for new opportunities to engage mental health in our ministry partners and disciples across the globe. The doors are swinging wide open. We are still ministering dear friends, although the platform will look a little different for the time being.

Through Elite Teams, we will continue to invest in Honduras. We are committed to missions. We are simply continuing with the calling God gave us with a different home base. I believe we are Kingdom workers first and foremost and would like to maintain our service in the Kingdom with your support. This is not over. This isn't a difficult decision for us as we have peace that God is leading us.

If you have any questions please feel free to connect with me via email. myeliteteams@gmail.com or social media FB mike n jess brown. We will still have newsletters, updates, social media posts, and interactions with all of you. If you would like to check out our website go to eliteteams.net. If you have prayed and decided that you would like to continue with us in our ministry adventures, go down to the bottom of the page and click to move your support to our secure giving option. You will receive an end-of-the-year receipt that you may use for tax purposes.

My friends, you have been with us for the last 10 years. And we pray you will continue with us for the next 10 years, God-willing. Give God the glory for the great things He has done and will continue to do. We sincerely thank God for you.

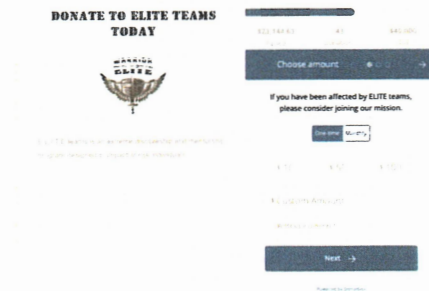

For the sake of the Kingdom and the Glory of God,

Mike, Jess, Layne, Kali, Josh, and Elizabeth.
